

Karen Frandsen (M.Mus., B.Mus. Vocal Performance) is a Soprano, music educator, adjudicator and life-long learner. In Regina, she has maintained a busy and active singing studio for 25 years. Her love of singing and music education have inspired many students to reach their goals. Karen's students regularly participate in Saskatchewan's district, provincial and Canada West performing Arts festivals, as well as the Saskatchewan Youth Choir, the Canadian Chamber Choir and the National Youth Choir of Canada. She was also the Director for the SaskExpress Musical Theatre Studio in Regina for many years. Karen is an active member of the local branch of the Saskatchewan Registered Music Teachers' Association (SRMTA) and has served as Director on the provincial SRMTA board. She currently serves as Director on the board of the Saskatchewan Music Festival Association (SMFA). Ms. Frandsen also enjoys adjudicating voice, music theatre, choirs and spoken word for Saskatchewan music festivals. Her voice students are found in Canada's artistic community, as vocal teachers, music educators, music therapists and engaged citizens.
